(King of Cambodia)

On this auspicious occasion of the 27th General Assembly of the ASEAN Inter-Parliamentary Organization (AIPO), allow me to convey my warmest regards to His Excellency JOSE DE VENECIA, JR., Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of AIPO, Her Excellency GLORIA MACAPAGALARROYO, President of the Republic of the Philippines, and to all the distinguished delegates from the ASEAN member countries participating in the celebrations of the AIPO General Assembly.

On your General Assembly's agenda today are high topics such as People-Centered Approach to Counter Terrorism; Global, Regional and National Interfaith Dialogues to Prevent Clash of Civilizations; Increased Trade and Investment Flows into ASEAN and Accelerating the Initiatives for ASEAN Integration and others. The most important topic is that we shall find out more successful clues for accommodating to the resolutions of AIPO in order to constitute the foundation for a strong, stable and peaceful cooperation into the Association of Southeast Asian Nations.

I also hope that, the 27th General Assembly of AIPO will lead to the positive developments and democratic process in the region.

With my profound appreciation for the excellent arrangements of this huge forum, I bless you all and wish the 27th General Assembly of ASEAN Inter-Parliamentary Organization a great success in order to bring the common interests to our ASEAN's people.
