EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill was originally filed in the Fifteenth Congress. On February 4, 2013, it was approved on third reading by the House but was not acted upon by the Senate. Hence, it is being re-filed in the Sixteenth Congress.

This bill seeks to institute reforms to further protect and develop the nursing profession, amending for the purpose Republic Act (RA) No. 9173, otherwise known as the “Philippine Nursing Act of 2002.”

RA 9173 was enacted in 2002 to provide a comprehensive definition and understanding of the nursing profession. It delineates the scope of work of registered Filipino nurses, establishes linkages with community resources and requires the updating of professional knowledge in the nursing field, patient care, levels of nursing practice and development of nursing education. This is in recognition of the vital role nurses play in the delivery of quality health services not only in the country, but all over the world.

Since the enactment of RA 9173 almost a decade ago, significant factors critical to the development of nursing practice in the country have emerged. This includes providing humane and globally competent nursing care, ensuring positive practice environment for nurses, strengthening the Philippine nursing profession as a recognized leader in primary health care, enforcing quality standards in nursing education and practice, and providing guidelines toward nursing career progression.
RA 9173 must be amended to achieve the vision of the Philippine professional nursing care to be the best for the Filipino and the choice of the world by 2030. Such amendments provide restructuring of the scope and practice of nursing to include certification, specialization and educational requirements, expanding the powers of the Board of Nursing to strengthen its role in decision-making processes concerning the nursing practice, providing additional educational requirements for different levels of nursing practice to ensure competitiveness and further strengthen the nursing profession and provide a better practice environment.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
