Boracay has been one of the most visited tropical islands in the Philippines and in Asia. This is because of its unparalleled beauty that boasts powdery white sand, azure waters and loads of activities making tourists from all over the world want to see and experience for themselves. The surge in tourists expectedly resulted to rapid development in the Island which inevitably led to environmental hazards threatening the condition of the islands. As a response to this, President Duterte issued Proclamation 475 declaring a state of calamity in the barangays of Balabag, Manoc-manoc and Yapac in the Municipality of Malay, Aklan thereby ordering the temporary closure of the Island as a tourist destination for a duration of six months. The closure of Boracay was mainly for the purpose of rehabilitating and restoring the Island back to its former glory. While the six-month closure truly helped in reconditioning the Island, this is not enough. The country has to continue to move forward in order for Boracay to become a pristine tourist destination in the Philippines and in Asia for a very long time.

This Bill intends to create a Boracay Island Development Authority (BIDA), a regulatory and administrative agency attached to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, which will delve on overseeing the island’s environmental sustainability. Boracay Island Development Authority (BIDA) shall formulate policies, plans, programs, and projects for the rehabilitation, preservation, and enhancement of the Boracay Island ensuring adequate provisions for environmental management and control, the preservation of the equality of human life and ecological systems, and the prevention of undue ecological disturbances, deterioration and pollution.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this Bill is earnestly sought.
