AN ACT
INSTITUTIONALIZING PHILIPPINE PARTICIPATION IN THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITIONS OF THE VENICE BIENNALE

EXPLANATORY NOTE

With the inception of the 1895 International Art Exhibition in Venice, the Venice Art Biennale remains the oldest and most prestigious international contemporary art exhibition. Now on its 58th edition, Biennale Arte is held every other year since 1895. The first Biennale was opened on April 30, 1895 by the King and Queen of Italy, Umberto I and Margherita di Savoia.

In the following years, exhibitions and festivals for the other arts were established: Biennale Musica in 1930 (International Festival Contemporary Music), Biennale Teatro in 1934 (International Theater Festival), and the Venice Film Festival in 1934 (Venice International Film Festival).

The first Philippine participation in the Venice Biennale was in 1964 during the 32nd Venice Art Biennale through the initiatives of the Art Association of the Philippines, where the works of painter Jose Joya and sculptor Napoleon Abueva were established. In 2015, the Philippines returned to the Venice Biennale and participated in the 56th International Art Exhibition. After a 51-year hiatus, the Philippines showcased an exhibition curated by Dr. Patrick Flores titled Tie a String Around the World, featuring the works of Jose Tence Ruiz, Manny Montelibano and National Artists Manuel Conde and Carlos "Botong" Francisco.

In 2016, the Philippines' first participation in the International Architecture Exhibition was marked by the exhibition curated by Andy Locsin, Jr. and Architects Sudarshan Khadka, Jr. and Juan Paolo dela Cruz, titled Muhon: Traces of an Adolescent City. In 2017, the Philippine Pavilion in the 57th International Art Exhibition is presented by the exhibition titled The Spectre of Comparison curated by Joselina Cruz and which featured artists Lani Maestro and Manuel Ocampo.

Country participation is formalized through a letter invitation from the President of the Fondazione la Biennale di Venezia, the arts organization that operates and administers the biennale, addressed to the National Commission for Culture and the Arts (NCCA), the highest cultural agency of the country.

This bill seeks to institutionalize the country's participation yearly in the international exhibitions of the Venice Biennale. To carry out the mandate under this Act, the Philippine Arts in Venice Biennale Coordinating Committee (PAVB-CC) is hereby created, to be lodged in the NCCA.

Recognizing the important role of the arts in fostering patriotism and nationalism, and the vital role of culture and the arts in democratic and inclusive nation-building, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
