EXPLANATORY NOTE

The 1987 Philippine Constitution acknowledges the importance of the youth in developing a strong Filipino Nation. Article II Section 13 reads:

The State recognizes the vital role of the youth in nation-building and shall promote and protect their physical, moral, spiritual, intellectual, and social well-being. It shall inculcate in the youth patriotism and nationalism, and encourage their involvement in public and civic affairs.

Aside from the Constitution, youth participation is also enshrined in other statutes. The 1991 Local Government Code provides for the youth's participation in local development and the establishment of the Sangguniang Kabataan. The 1995 Youth in Nation-Building Act provided a national comprehensive program on youth development and the creation of the National Youth Commission. Furthermore, the Medium-Term Youth Development Plan of the Philippines identified the youth's right to participate in decision-making on policies involving them and their responsibility to represent their sector in policy-making bodies. Indeed, the participation and representation of the youth is of utmost importance in the Philippine bureaucracy.

This bill seeks to include the youth in the highest policy-making body of the country by instituting the Youth Legislators Program. The proposed Youth Legislature is tasked to propose bills and resolutions to the House of Representatives and the Senate.

To ensure that the youth's voices are heard in the national legislative process, the passage of this measure is earnestly urged.
