EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 196

Introduced by: REP. RAUL V. DEL MAR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Constitution provides that: “the State recognizes the complementary roles of public and private institutions in the educational system and shall exercise reasonable supervision and regulation of education institutions.” (Article XIV, Section 4[1])

To this end, “the Sate shall assign the highest budgetary priority to education and ensure that teaching will attract and retain its rightful share of the best available talents through the adequate remuneration and other means of job satisfaction and fulfilment,” (Article XIV, Section 5[5]).

Public school teachers are among underpaid workers in our society. Despite the fact that they are heralded as molders of our children’s future, public school teachers receive only less than ten thousand a month each for their basic salary. The teachers are considered to be the prime mover of the education system; hence, the government needs to give priority to their interest and welfare.

Thus, to give meaning to the spirit and intent of the above-mentioned constitutional provisions, there has been a compelling need to upgrade the salary grade of our public school teachers.

Approval of this measure is earnestly requested.
