EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS

First Regular Session

House Bill No. 818

Introduced by HON. ROZZANO RUFINO B. BIAZON

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Presidential Decree No. 1894, issued by then President Ferdinand E. Marcos in 1982, granted the Toll Regulatory Board (TRB) the jurisdiction and supervision over the Philippine National Construction Corporation (PNCC) – formerly the Construction and Development Corporation of the Philippines (CDCP) – which holds the franchise or the right, privilege, and authority to construct, maintain and operate the North and South Luzon Expressways, the Metro Manila Expressway, as well as any and all such extensions, linkages, or stretches and the toll facilities appurtenant thereto.

Such jurisdiction and supervision includes the approval of the toll that the PNCC will charge the users of the expressways. Section 8 of PD No. 1894 states that, “The Toll Regulatory Board shall have the authority to approve such initial toll rates without the necessity of any notice and hearing.” Section 9 thereof states, “Any adjustment in the then current toll rate(s) resulting from the application of the formula ... shall be published once by the grantee in a newspaper of general circulation not later than November 30 of each year and (ii) be enforceable and collected by the grantee effective on the first day of January of the immediately succeeding year.”

This bill seeks to require the TRB to conduct public hearings prior to the approval of initial toll rates of any such infrastructure that may yet be constructed, or any proposal to increase the toll rates of the existing ones.

Though declared to still be a private corporation by a Supreme Court decision in the case of PNCC versus Pabion and Ramiro, in G.R. No. 131715, December 8, 1999, as it was organized pursuant to the Corporation Code, and previously, in 1998, was declared to be an “acquired asset corporation” by Administrative Order No. 59, issued by then President Corazon C. Aquino, the PNCC’s majority shareholders are government financial institutions. This being the case, this bill also implicitly appeals to the government to exercise its power, in cognizance of the current economic situation, to render decisions that are more responsive to the call of the times.

In light of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.

The Toll Regulatory Board, at a public hearing called for the purpose, after due notice, shall then conduct a review of the initial toll to determine the propriety and basis thereof. Decisions of the Toll Regulatory

Sec. 2. Section 9, Paragraph (b) (b) of the same law is hereby amended to read as follows:

“(b) Any adjustment in the then current toll rates resulting from the application of the formula and indicated in the aforesaid written statement shall (i) be published once in a newspaper of general circulation not later than November 30 of each year and (ii) SHALL BE SUBJECT TO THE APPROVAL OF THE TOLL REGULATORY BOARD AFTER DUE NOTICE AND PUBLIC HERAINGS ARE CONDUCTED FOR THE PURPOSE AND SHALL be enforceable and collected by the GRANTEE effective on the first day of January of the [immediately succeeding] year FOLLOWING THE APPROVAL THEREOF.”
