EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 2426

INTRODUCED BY REPRESENTATIVE ALFRED VARGAS

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Road and vehicular-related accidents are some of the leading causes of death globally. In the Philippines, government data shows that traffic-related accidents and vehicular incidents are attributable to human error and negligence (i.e. overspeeding, using of cellphone while driving, drunk driving, overtaking and wrong turning, etc.)

While the root cause of road accidents and casualties is difficult to identify because of its diverse and multi-faceted nature, road accidents and injuries can be prevented through preventive intervention such as the proper education and continuing training of our road users on road safety and traffic regulations.

This bill seeks to include a comprehensive continuing driver's education program in the Senior High School (SHS) to develop our students' knowledge on traffic rules and regulations and on the safe operation of motor vehicles pursuant to international road and traffic safety standards. Through the program, students will develop their operational skills as responsible motorists, hone their individual understanding and obedience to traffic rules and regulations, generate appreciation and recognition of the causes and consequences of road and vehicular-related accidents caused by irresponsible driving methods and driving under the influence. This program will also enable students to assess their skills and behavior on the road and instill in them the sense of responsibility that comes from acquiring the correct knowledge on driving motor vehicles. The program shall also help future motorists to be mindful not only of their personal safety but also the safety of other road users as well.

In view of the foregoing and with the imperative to continuously develop the country's human capital, the swift and urgent approval of this measure is earnestly requested.
