HOUSE BILL NO. 2930

Introduced by Rep. Precious Hipolito Castelo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

No clear rule or regulation has yet been issued that will effectively control or regulate the use of computers in government offices by employees while in their respective offices presumably to perform their duties and responsibilities with utmost diligence and dedication.

This bill therefore intends to institute a self-regulatory policy in all government or public offices to observe use of computers only for work-related tasks such that everything beyond this shall be regulated or controlled and may subject the employee to disciplinary action by his immediate superior or head of agency.

This in gist, is the whole intent of this instant measure and its urgent passage is most earnestly sought.
