House Bill No. 5205

INTRODUCED BY REP. ALFRED VARGAS

---

AN ACT
PROVIDING FOR A NATIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR INTERNS' RIGHTS AND WELFARE

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The development of companies and organizations rely on the hard work that employees and staff bring forth. With internship programs, companies and organizations expand opportunities for development as a two-way process: it provides interns relevant training experience, while also contributing to the needs of host companies and organizations.

Earning relevant work experience is crucial to anyone aspiring to enter the labor force. It is thus imperative for the country to prepare and protect these interns and the service they provide through just compensation.

It is for the public interest to provide a conducive environment for interns to grow and become the competent leaders of tomorrow. Recognizing the economic contribution of interns, the Interns' Rights and Welfare Bill seeks to protect the rights of interns by providing measures that will safeguard their welfare especially from exploitative practices, during the duration of their internships.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
